From all over the world agents of pharmaceutical research organizations are sending back thousands of different samples of earth. They are collected from back yards, forests, jungles, farms, etc.

Millions of dollars are spent to analyze them with the hopeful wish that a better anti-biotic may be discovered. Perhaps even cancer may be cured someday by something from the earth.

One thing we do know. New medicines are being perfected rapidly, and as soon as they are approved for safe use, we stock them in our pharmacy.

Girl Scouts Act Quickly To Rebuild

The main building at Camp Maude Eaton at Pumps Pond will be rebuilt by June 30.

And the planned summer program, which last year included some 40 girls from Andover itself, will start on that date as scheduled.

Mrs. Richard Moody, camp executive, told the TOWNSMAN this week that there is no doubt that a building will go up in time for the summer activities. A meeting, scheduled for last night, and another on tap for Friday night, are scheduled to take the specific steps towards reconstruction.

Mrs. Moody said, however, that $9000 in insurance and $7500 in a fund for a new infirmary won't meet the estimated cost of replacing the structure with a concrete block building and equipping it.

Donations of much practical equipment, plus gifts of money, will be happily received by the Scout Committee. Mrs. Moody may be contacted for information at her home on Alderbrook rd.

Needed will be a complete kitchen, small refrigerator, piano, arts and crafts supplies, recreational materials and supplies for the infirmary.

Four row boats must be acquired, she stated, along with replacing the wooden dock that was completely destroyed in the fire April 18. Canoes burned in the fire will not be replaced, Mrs. Moody stated, at least this year.

By the time work can begin on the new structure, Mrs. Moody

BPW Claims Land Needed To Store Water

The Board of Public Works has been charged with taking land at Haggett's Pond for a project that hasn't been approved by the state, at a cost that may run to an immediate $100,000 when only $13,000 is available and without prior approval of the voters.

Furthermore, three residents of the area challenged the Board to tell them why form letters were sent this month giving residents until June 1 to vacate - without any sort of warning that the move was imminent.

Daniel Hogan Jr., John Bolten Jr. and Charles Allen appeared at the Board meeting, obviously disturbed over the land takings.

Children To Plant Tree At School

Tomorrow being Arbor Day, a special observance is being planned at twelve noon at the Central Elementary School by the Andover Junior Garden Club.

Every year the Andover Junior Garden Club attempts to observe Arbor Day by planting a tree as a civic project. This year the ceremony has special significance since the flowering crab tree to be planted is actually a state award presented by the Massachusetts Federation of Garden Clubs to the Junior Club through its mother-sponsor, the Andover Garden Club. The junior organization is eligible for this award because it is an accredited garden club, fulfilling the national standards for junior garden clubs.

The ceremony will include brief talks by Miss Catherine Barrett, principal of the Central School, and Mrs. John B. Cecill Jr., chairman of the Andover Junior Garden Club.

Granted permission for removal of a tree at 17 Arundel st. to make way for a driveway. Also approved request for permission to raise the level of a manhole at the same address, on private property, so that it will be even with garage floor to be constructed this year.

George Jones of Salem st. asked if the Board had decided what it will do about drainage problems near his home. Engineer Ralph Preble will investigate means of diverting water from private property.

Edward P. Hall asked for a sewer extension some 800 feet from the intersection of Hall ave. and Clark rd. Board members felt it may be possible to ask a special town meeting for a transfer of funds from the Andover st. sewer job, which was bid in close to $10,000 less than the allowed $25,000. Hall wants the town to do the job so that betterments can be assessed against all property owners along the 800 feet. Otherwise, he said, he would be paying for a sewer for two homeowners, who then could not be required to pay their share.

Speaking for the High School Building Committee, Mr. Hall asked the Board to investigate the drainage problems on Shawshen rd. in relation to the new high school. Engineer Ralph Preble said he is waiting for plans from the architect to see what allowance has been made in their drainage system.

Stevens Gives Land For Public Use

West Center Acres, the new subdivision which Carl T. Stevens is developing to the west of Lowell st. near Virginia rd., has been provided with a permanent recreation area.

Alth and Carl T. Stevens have decided, as a gift to the Andover Village Improvement Society, a plot of land of approximately 2.9 acres on "West Parish Drive," a street not yet completed.

The land is covered in part with scrub growth and includes a small pond. This plot, like all other lands owned by the A.V.I.S., is open to the public under reasonable regulations. The A.V.I.S., for the present at any rate, intends to retain this land in its natural condition. Harold R. Rafton of Alden rd., chairman of the Land Committee, issued the following statement:

"It would be of great advantage to the public if recreation areas could similarly be set aside in every subdevelopment in Andover, so that the children and particularly the young children, of that vicinity would have their own neighborhood playground, without risking the traffic hazards in going to more distant playfields. Perhaps other developers, inspired by Mr. Stevens' fine gift, may also wish to present to the A.V.I.S. plots of land within their developments for recreational purposes.

Apart from the benefit the developer confers upon the public, he will appreciate that a permanent play area in any subdevelopment will increase the value of the other property in his subdevelopment. Moreover, as he would be deeding the land to the A.V.I.S., which is a charitable society, he can deduct the fair value of any such land on his federal income tax return the same as he would any other charitable contribution." Mr. Rafton said he would be happy to talk with developers about giving land.

"You base it on the benefit now", he stated, "not what a man might do in 30 or 40 years", Sherman pointed out that the property restriction in this case will be gone in that time automatically.

"If we abate this one, we'll have to go back and abate others too", objected member Francis Reilly. He pointed out that the Board has felt it operates under a town meeting mandate to assess 100 percent betterments on a frontage basis — dividing the number of feet into the cost and then charging all property owners the same cost per foot. "You can apportion it according to the benefits to the land", Sherman said. Moreover "if you feel you should" (go back and abate other assessments) "it's just what you should do".

Corner Lots

Further discussing the Board's policies relating to betterments, Atty. Sherman suggested that corner lots should receive an abatement for the minimum amount of frontage required under the zoning law for that area. Thus, he explained, if a man owns a corner lot, he should not have to pay on more than one side if his lot just conforms to the zoning requirement for the area. The Board has been abating 75 feet for these people, based on long-existing custom. Sherman suggested the custom probably started in the days when 75 feet was the minimum frontage requirement.

In the Prendergast case, however, Sherman argued that his client could receive no benefit from the water extension as he already had town water far enough along his property to pipe it into his home. The Board agreed to discuss the requested abatement when a full board is present. Sherman said he would have to bring suit against the town if a fairly quick decision is not reached in order to protect Mr. Prendergast under the statutes.

Boys Tie Girls In Quiz Down

Recently a group of boys and girls from St. Augustine's School traveled to Boston to compete as boy and girl teams in the popular Boston Globe-WJZ Quiz down program.

The children were accompanied by their pastor, Very Rev. Henry H. Smith, O.S.A., and members of the teaching faculty.

Competing on the girls' side were Mary Ellen Keaney and Suzanne Gendron, grade 4; Gail Kirwin and Kathy Dolan, grade 5; Margaret Erwin and Phyllis Riley, grade 6.

The boys were represented by John Cronin and David Cawley, grade 4; Arthur Lebreck and Raymond LaRoche, grade 5; George Donegan and Joseph Howard, grade 6.

The contest resulted in a tie, each contestant being awarded a specially inscribed Quizdown pen. The school received the new Centennial Edition of the Rand McNally Cosmopolitan World Atlas for use by the entire student body.

Another trip thoroughly enjoyed by 150 of the students at St. Augustine's was taken last Monday, when they were taken to Boston to see a showing of the motion picture, "The Ten Commandments."

Mrs. Karl Haartz and daughter, Karla, of High Plain rd. spent the past week in Ann Arbor, Mich. where they visited with the former's son, David Haartz, a student at the University of Michigan.

Idea Worth Investigating

Without getting into a legal discussion, we want to suggest that town officials look closely at Atty. Roland Sherman's definition of the betterment act. If a legal opinion is needed it should be sought immediately.

In brief, Sherman suggests that betterments should be assessed against property owners whose land is actually improved by the extension of a water or sewer line. These owners should pay the total cost, as we understand his idea, thus regaining for the town the full amount appropriated for the work. The change comes in omitting the relatively few owners whose land will be unaffected by the extension — persons now regularly charged under the BPW interpretation of the town meeting vote.

This does not apply in cases where the owner just doesn't want the water or sewer because he does not wish to develop the property. It applies only in cases where a home may already have water but receive an assessment for an extension along some part of the lot frontage — and then only in cases where the total area will not permit another house lot. And it might well apply in the case of corner lots, where a home is served from one street, but is charged for frontage on the other street when water or sewer pipes are laid.

In all cases, it seems fair to ask land owners to pay when their land is actually improved. But it makes little or no sense to charge a land owner if no return value is involved.

Thus we hope that persons in a position to do something about this situation study Sherman's ideas. For it seems to us that he makes sense and that their adoption might help the town avoid creating undue hardships, while still collecting for the work.

Let's Move Slowly

Now that the governor's sales tax proposal is before the Legislature, it appears possible that the local real estate tax reductions promised under the measure may come painfully.

Although we have no wish to condemn the plan at this point, it seems that the restrictions to be placed on the communities should be reviewed thoroughly. The proposal would have the state fix a tax rate for the year 1958 — based on the 1957 local rate and the average valuations during the three preceeding years. That rate could not be changed except through the approval of all the voters on the ballot. Then, in other years, the voters could either abandon the idea of a tax rate limit or maintain it, with changes coming only by referendum.

Such restrictions, while perhaps necessary, might be painful for Andover. The benefits of the revaluation of property now underway, for example, might be pushed aside if an average valuation for the three past years must be used in setting the 1958 rate.

And it is possible that annual restrictions that require a referendum to change might be too cumbersome.

It appears that careful study of the implications of the governor's plan, as they will affect this community, must be undertaken.

Committee Appoints Benjamin Dimlich

BENJAMIN F. DIMLICH

Assuming full duties as the new principal of Andover Junior High School, Benjamin F. Dimlich, 271 Salem st., will be unfamiliar only to newcomers of Andover.

Mr. Dimlich was elected principal at a meeting of the School Committee last week, a position which he has sub-headed for the past seven years under Headmaster Lindsay J. March.

Mr. March in the fall will move, along with the high school, into the new Andover High School building on Shawsheen rd. and Mr. Dimlich will occupy the principalship in an office of the Senior-Junior joint buildings, both of which will house only the Junior High School in September.

Educated in the Andover public schools, Mr. Dimlich was graduated from Bates College in 1935. He attended Boston University and received his Master's degree from Tufts in 1950.

Elected In 1936

He was elected to the school system as a teacher in 1936 and became acting principal in 1949 for a period of one year. He has devoted much of his time to activities in various civic fields, being superintendent of the Andover Guild from 1944 to 1948, and director of the boy scouts at Camp Onway in 1943. He was director of the playground system from 1945 to 1948; and in 1945 was president of the Andover Teachers' Association.

During the war Mr. Dimlich served as first lieutenant of the 20th Company of the Massachusetts State Guard.

He is the father of four children, all in the Andover public schools — Judith in grade 8, David in grade 5, Susan in grade 3 and Claire in Kindergarten.

Presentation of flags to the schools will be announced later.

Mrs. Edwin Otto opened a discussion on the subject of Constitution Week and it was voted to have an historical tour for some of the elementary school pupils during that time.

In place of a scheduled program that had to be postponed because of wet weather, several items of interest were discussed by several of the members. Mrs. Jesse Bottonley read from the D.A.R. Press Digest concerning the Denver flag incident. Mrs. Thaxter Eaton reported on the March meeting of the State conference and Mrs. Glines reported on the Memorial service.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rogge of Ballardvale rd. have returned from a month's visit with Mr. and Mrs. John Rogge in Atlantic City, N.J. Mr. and Mrs. George Marceau of Derby, Conn. and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hudson of Providence, R. I.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago — April, 1907

On a slippery pitch and in a rain storm Andover and Methuen met on P. A. campus last Friday afternoon in the final game for the cup presented by Congressman Ames to the Lawrence and Lowell District Football league. The football was not of the highest order, but Andover's recovery in the middle of the second half was noteworthy and earned the locals their victory — Andover 4, Methuen 2.

The school committee has appropriated $10 for the adornment of the grounds of the West Center School, and the shrubs which the money will purchase are to be set out by the Boys' Club of the West Church.

Walter French was tipped out of his team last Saturday while emptying a load at the public dump. The whole team went over the bank, scratching the horses and hurting Mr. French considerably.

25 Years Ago — April, 1932

At the coming smoke talk of the Sherrill Club next Wednesday in Christ Church Parish House it is expected that E. E. Hammond will speak and R. E. Deyermund will be master of ceremonies.

The Phillips Academy polo squad will no longer have to play its games on an inadequate field, for during the week a new field behind Brothers' Field was added to the academy's athletic facilities.

A Parent-Teacher Association for the Central plant will be organized next Monday evening at a public meeting to be held in Punchard Hall. Mrs. Ernest U. Walen will open the meeting.

With four more stores putting in barrels, the Andover orange barrel campaign enters the second week tomorrow morning after a week of undreamed-of success. Many barrels of foods of all sorts were turned over during the week to Mrs. Lotta M. Johnson, Board of Health Nurse.

10 Years Ago — April, 1947

This week the Veterans Service Office reported a total of 237 returns from veterans of the emergency housing survey. About 23 veterans have listed under $30 a month as their ability to pay, but over 100 are classified between $30 and $45, and 38 are listed between $50 and $100 per month.

The trustees of Phillips Academy announced this week the forthcoming retirement of Dr. Claude Moore Fuess, Headmaster since 1933, to take effect in June, 1948. Dr. Fuess will have completed at that time 40 years of service to Phillips Academy.

The resignation of Milton C. Blanchard as principal of the Junior High School was read at the School Committee meeting Tuesday night and accepted with regret.

At The Library

"Education" in the Spotlight

In recognition of the Centennial of the National Education Association, a booklist on educational subjects has been prepared by the Joint Committee of the NEA and the American Library Association, all of which emphasize the new philosophies of education and mark the roads that education has taken or is taking.

The books selected for inclusion were added on the basis of appeal primarily to the layman, but educators will find much in the way of enlightenment and enjoyment among them.

Books on teachers and teaching comprise the first section, and include "A Goodly Heritage," Mary Ellen Chase; "The Art of Teaching," Gilbert Highet; "Miracle in the Mountain," Harriet Kane; "And Gladly Teach," Bliss Perry; "The Thread That Runs So True," Jesse Stuart; "Until Victory," by Louise Hall Tharp.

Books on Schools comprise the second section: "The Negro and the Schools," by Harry S. Ashmore; "Education and Liberty," James Bryant Conant; "How to Get Better Schools," David D. Dreiman; "The Conflict in Education," Robert M. Hutchins; "Effective Home-School Relations," James L. Hynes Jr.; "Freedom and Public Education," Ernest O. Melby; "Schools in Transition," Robin M. Williams; "Let's Talk Sense About Our Schools," Paul Woodring.

The section on philosophy of Education includes "History of Education in American Culture," R. Freeman Butts; "Academic Procession," Ernest Earnest; "The Education of Free Men," by Ernest O. Melby and "On Education and Freedom," by Harold Taylor.

There are also novels dealing with schools, teachers and educational problems on all levels. Copies of the list are available.

Agree On Cause

Meanwhile Fire Chief Henry Hilton and Lt. Kelleher of the State Fire Marshal's office have agreed that the fire probably resulted from small grass fires set by two youngsters. Hilton and Police Chief David Nicoll questioned the boys, who are said to have admitted setting three small fires in the brush along the road leading into the public beach. Hilton said the boys apparently thought they extinguished two of the fires while the department was called to put out the third one. One of the two, however, apparently smoldered and worked its way into the camp area, the chief stated.

"It's an expensive lesson", Hilton commented, while explaining that no official action can be taken.

45 Men Respond

The fire was discovered shortly before 6 p.m. by Walter Reed of Andover st., who called in the alarm. Firefighters had been summoned to the area 40 minutes before to put out one of the brush fires.

Minor burns were suffered during the fire by four firefighters - Deputy John Cole, James Deyermund, Clark Otis and John J. Murnane. They were treated by a private physician.

To Celebrate May Fellowship Day

"Free Schools in a Free America," is the theme this year of the more than 50 observances of May Fellowship Day, sponsored by the Christian Social Relations Committee of the United Church

Women of Massachusetts.

In Andover, just as in most of the towns and cities of the Council, May Fellowship Day observance takes place Friday, May 3. A program devoted solidly to education has been scheduled for eight o'clock in the upper room of the Free Church and the general public is cordially invited to attend.

Lindsay J. March, headmaster of Pynchard High School and Elbert C. Weaver, instructor in chemistry on the George Peabody Foundation at Phillips Academy, will be the featured speakers.

"What Should Our Schools Teach?" is a question which Mr. March will discuss, with emphasis on the goals and responsibilities of our schools. Mr. Weaver will deal in the "new look" in the teaching of chemistry today, showing interesting visual aids which he has developed for use in a new program of teaching of high school chemistry. He entitles his talk "AV-Ventures."

Mr. Weaver has recently been appointed senior education advisor for the Manufacturing Chemists' Association, where he will assist in the development and execution of MCA's expanding aid-to-education activities.

May Fellowship Day is designed to promote Christian fellowship in local communities; to stimulate and educate for united action on social, economic and racial problems.

In concerning itself with the needs and problems and goals of Education today, the local Council of the United Church Women, is also recognizing the centennial along with its main purpose of civic cooperation is also recognizing the centennial of the National Education Association.

Serving on the Program Committee for May Fellowship Day is Mrs. Harry O. Blaisdell, chairman; Mrs. William B. Clift, Mrs. H. Earle Shaw, Mrs. David Darling and Mrs. William Deilart.

Mrs. Robert S. Hatton, President of the United Women of Andover, will preside.

RAISING MONEY FOR GIRL'S TRIP

Summer st. is the Andover delegate to the international Junior Red Cross session. She was chosen not only for her personal leadership but also for the work the Andover Junior Red Cross has contributed to international understanding.

In playing its part in the international program, the Andover Junior Red Cross does not forget its domestic obligations.

Since last September the Andover young people have participated in programs for the Veterans Administration Hospital at Bedford, the Murphy Army Hospital at Waltham, the North Reading Sanatorium, St. Anne's Orphanage at Lawrence, Nike installations in the area and for home bound children.

These programs have included the making or purchase of cribbage boards, candy cups for holidays, clip boards, ash trays, writing portfolios, crossword puzzles and Christmas stockings.

The young people also have staged entertainments, visited the ill, made Christmas decorations and have sung carols to shut ins.

At the international level, they also have compiled correspondence albums, taken part in art programs, made up gift boxes and donated to the Childrens Fund from which the Dr. Albert Schweitzer gift was made.

The young people also have assisted the senior Red Cross chapter by serving as staff aides on Bloodmobile visits, assisted in fund drives and have done odd tasks around the headquarters on Pynchard ave.

They also have taken home nursing, first aid and water safety courses.

An illustrated talk on wild flowers by Miss Bessie P. Goldsmith and Mrs. Nathaniel Stowers, and a demonstration of a spring flower arrangement by Mrs. John B. Cecil Jr., will highlight the next meeting of the Andover Junior Garden Club, Saturday morning at 10:30 at Memorial Hall Library.

Other features of the meeting will be the awarding of prizes by the State Junior chairman, Mrs. Ernest L. Wilkinson, to the members for the greatest achievement in the selling of Blue Star Memorial Highway seals and for the most complete scrapbooks.

An invitation is extended by the junior gardeners to their mothers and to members of the senior garden club to attend the meeting. Refreshments will be served later in the morning.

In charge of arrangements for the program are Mrs. John B. Cecil Jr., chairman of the Andover Junior Garden Club, Mrs. Adeline M. Wright, Counselor, Mrs. Henry Schereschewsky and Mrs. Walter Curtis.

GOURMET "STEALS"

BY

BETTY BLAISDELL

There's a delightful sound, I know, to "May Day breakfast." I've always loved it, probably because when I was growing up in Pennsylvania it was generally a meal to have outdoors with a picnic basket and a blanket. It is the first one of the season if the weather was good and I can't remember a May Day when the sun wasn't shining and the apple trees weren't just about to bloom.

New England May firsts are older and one can't always count on the weather, any more than one can count on having some fresh trout, all rolled in bread crumbs and browning in the fry pan for the festive morning!

In any case - outdoors or in - the thought of having guests for May breakfast next week is on your mind, and ham still sounds good to you so soon after Easter, Mrs. Byron H. Smith's company casserole is a real smasher.

When she makes this she generally plans for 30 guests, but the whole thing can easily be adjusted to size, depending upon the amount of servings you want and how much left-over ham you have in the refrigerator.

EGGS EN CASSEROLE

(Mrs. Byron H. Smith)

1 cooked ham, (fat & bone removed), ground
3 doz. med. hard-boiled eggs
1/2 pound butter
Parmesan cheese
cracker crumbs, finely crushed
1 qt. medium white sauce freshly ground pepper
salt
herbs, such as 1 tsp. chopped chives, 1/4 tsp. Chervil, 1 tsp. chopped parsley.

Mrs. Smith slices the eggs and layers the ham, eggs and cream sauce (to which has been added the seasonings), then tops her tremendous casserole with the rolled cracker crumbs. The 1/2 pound of butter is melted and poured over the crumbs, then a layer of Parmesan cheese. Bake one hour at 350 degrees.

CHICKEN LIVERSBORDEAUX

(A favorite of mine)

About 18 chicken livers
1/2 lb. sliced mushrooms
1/2 cup white Bordeaux
1/2 cup chicken broth
1 tbl. chopped parsley
1 tbl. chopped onion
1 heaping tbl. flour
salt & freshly ground pepper
1/2 bay leaf
oregano

For a scrumptious May Day breakfast dish, to be served with a plain, fluffy herb omelette, perhaps, this is really superb. The servings should be small, so it could easily serve 8. For supper it is fine, too, surrounded with buttered wild rice, but it should then serve six.

Saute the chicken livers with the sliced mushrooms in a good 4 tablespoons butter. Add the minced onion and chopped parsley, shaking or stirring often. Dust the flour over the livers and let the flour brown. Add gradually the white Bordeaux, then the rich chicken broth, stirring constantly. Add the 1/2 bay leaf and a pinch of oregano. Let simmer for about 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Serve on hot toast points and garnish with fresh parsley.

Fishermen Have Good Fortune

A record-breaking warm spell greeted the opening of the fishing season last Saturday with literally hundreds of local sportsmen, young and old, turning out to break records for the first day's catch.

What the figures are is anybody's guess, but judging by the number of fathers and sons and whole families, including mothers and sisters, who lined the banks of the Shawsheen River and those fishing off Bill Nolan's Bridge on the Tewksbury line, a good percentage of the State's stock went "home" to sizzle and fry.

Henry Boucher, popular local postman and sports enthusiast, tried out his brand new fly rod, getting to the B. & M. underpass along the Shawsheen River at 4:45 a.m., and catching his limit of 12 trout before most other fishermen had breakfast. He used his favorite yellow maribou streamer. John Keith and Gene Zalla were on hand, catching eight and seven respectively.

Some of the other popular trout fishermen trying their luck including Joseph D. Stack, Charles A. Forsythe, Robert Piercy, Henry C. Holt Jr., Bert Damon, Allan Nowell, Richard Massey and Frank Mooney.

The kids had a great time and as usual pinned their faith on worms. Ted Burt and Peter Winn, however, caught two nice 11-inch trout apiece using daredevil lures.

RESIDENTS OBJECT TO LAND TAKINGS

While they agreed the town has moved legally on the takings, the men wanted to know why land enough has been secured for raising the water level two feet when that has not been approved by the state.

They also asked how much the completed project would cost — including damages under the present takings, work on the area to make it ready for the extra water and further damages when the water is pumped or diverted into the pond. The Board didn't know the cost and explained that it was taking one step at a time in order to find water for the town.

Alex Henderson sat as chairman in the absence of Allen Flye. He told Mr. Hogan that the state had allowed the land takings but has not approved the boost in water level which the takings allow. He also indicated that Town Counsel Vincent Stulgis had advised the Board what it could offer for property, based on the assessed valuation.

"You haven't one-twentieth what it's going to cost to do this" Hogan asserted.

Cesspools Under Water

"It puts water in his cellar", he claimed, pointing to Mr. Bolton.

And, Mr. Bolton added, it puts three or four cesspools under the drinking water as well.

"That's a Board of Health problem", Henderson replied.

He and other board members said they had not handled the details of the land taking but had turned the whole matter over to the Selectmen and town counsel. Mr. Hogan pointed out, however, that the selectmen had told him earlier Monday night that they acted on a mandate of the BPW.

Mainly, the property owners resented hearing nothing from the BPW until receiving a form notice, prompting Mr. Hogan to ask why they couldn't have been called in to discuss the matter.

Henderson said land owners were asked for their selling price some time ago — but the men present said they had received no such request. As a matter of fact, Hogan said he and others owning land in the area thought the matter was dead two years ago when the state refused permission for the town to take any more than a 50-foot strip around the pond.

Wants Survey

During the lengthy session Mr. Hogan repeatedly insisted that the land owners were as interested as anyone in having more water for the town. But he said he just couldn't see the methods used — taking land without enough money to pay the land damages. It would be like the School Committee building a school then asking for enough money to pay for it, he claimed. He also insisted that the Board should have a survey of the costs and then ask the town for permission to go forward.

Then, Hogan continued, the townspeople should be asked whether they wish to support the next step of raising the water level, with its price tag attached. May Advance Date

As far as the June 1 deadline for moving, Mr. Bolton said his parents-in-law live in the cottage at the pond and he didn't believe they'd be out by then. The Board felt, however, that the date might be extended and disclaimed any knowledge that it had been set. It was suggested that the town counsel probably had established the date.

But Mr. Hogan told the Board "don't blame the town counsel" — he's not running the Board. He pointed out that a legal counsel is retained to advise on the legality, not to make policy decisions.

Although the discussion continued for a long time, neither group could arrive at any decision satisfactory to it. Finally it was decided to hold another discussion, with a full BPW present along with the town counsel.

During the evening, Mr. Hogan had asked several times why letters he sent the Board over a year ago asking the reasons for taking so much land had never been answered. He also asked why he never had an acknowledgment of his offer to give land that could actually be used by the town. He raised the point that some of the acreage now taken by the town is as much as 40 feet higher than the pond level and 1000 feet away from its edge. It was explained that the land takings were planned for the eventual raising of the level by two feet, when and if the state accepts town plans for that project.

Winners Chosen

Patterning the lovely custom of the Easter Egg Tree after the traditional Pennsylvania Dutch custom as told in Katherine Mahoney's book "The Easter Egg Tree", the children's department of the Memorial Hall Library sponsored again this year a contest for the handsomest and most original Easter eggs pinned to the boughs.

More than 50 children and parents attended Monday afternoon's prize awarding party held in the large lecture hall of the library.

First prize winners were Kenneth Deniers and Carole Drake, from grades 1 to 3; Mary Lou Carr and Friedel Laal, grades 4 to 6; and Beverly Domingue, from grades 7 to 9.

Second prize winners were Peter Doherty and Albert Canoe, grades 1 to 3; Linda Onthank and Linda Bourdelais, grades 4 to 6; and Geraldine Pelletier, grades 7 to 9.

Mrs. Elmer Onthank, 109 Harvard, with children Lee, Linda and Terry, was awarded the single family entry first prize.

As in the book, the prizes were large molasses cookies with the egg baked in the middle.

Judging of the prize winning eggs was done in the morning by Mrs. Philip Sargent, Mrs. James Paparella and Mrs. Donald Amy.

Miss Margaret Lane, Children's librarian, narrated a special featured marionette show, Oscar Wilde's "Selfish Giant." Susan and Diane Cole, Julie Pike and Judy Salvage were the Puppets.

Tennis Anyone?

Judith Young, Punchard Junior, displays some of the trophies she won in tennis tournaments. (Leone)

"Tennis anyone?" is a very familiar cry at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Young, 35 Robb's rd. and now, come spring, daughter Judy, a Junior at Punchard High, is anxious to get out on the tennis courts once again.

Judy says that it was her sister Janet's enthusiasm and love of the sport that aroused her interest. Judy played for the first time five years ago at the courts near her home in Belmont.

Before moving to Andover two years ago, Judy took lessons in Belmont from Mrs. Sullivan and Mrs. Whiteman, both professional players. Her teachers encouraged her to enter several tournaments and she won both the single and double Belmont Junior Tournament. She also entered the New England Junior Whiteman Cup Tournament and won a sufficient number of games to secure several badges.

Each year for four years, Judy has been an outstanding contender in the Greater Lawrence Tournament and this summer she hopes that intensive practice will better prepare her for it. Her friends wish her the best of luck toward making the finals in the fall.

Farm Teams Report To Playgrounds Saturday

With Little Leaguers already engaged in practice sessions this week in preparation for the May 11 opener, a call has gone out to all boys not on the four teams to report to the playground nearest their homes this Saturday.

The farm teams, equally important in the eyes of Little League officials and under the charter of the organization, will have an active season, organized in two 5-team leagues.

And even as this year's effort gets underway, officials of the Little League are planning next year's activities, including expansion of both the Little League and Farm System by two teams.

A committee studying this idea reported recently that it would have been impractical to enlarge this year, because the initial cost of a team is the greatest. Thus plans are now being made to finance the project in 1958.

Some of the expenses listed by the Little League are insurance, $120; uniform and equipment repair, $150; new signs and sign repair, $200; new equipment, $1500; jackets for 12 year olds leaving Little League, $250; use of Academy cage for tryouts, $25; pins and team pictures, $50; mailing, $10 and Little League franchise for four-team league, $25.

Members of the Finance Committee of the League are William Busby, treasurer; Winston A. Blake, assistant treasurer; Charles Hagg, player representative; Dr. Milton J. Meyers, district representative; David Petrie, League commissioner; Carlton Clift, Alco Taylor, Albert Warner, Al Kryzynski, Gordon Holdsworth, Tom Wallace, League president and John Auchterlonie, chairman of finance.

For the third successive year, Dr. Meyers is organizing the umpiring staff. Presently signed up are Robert Leete, Robert Macartney, Robert McIntyre, Glenn Yeaton, Melvin Hutchings, Ted Russem, Fred Saunders, George Snyder, Albert Carpentier and James Prout.
